ELMHURST HIGH SCHOOL
FORT WAYNE, INDIANA
VOLUME 24

Foreword

In this '57 edition of the ANLIBRUM, we have tried to capture the outstanding events of the past year. We hope, in this way, to make them memorable to you in years to come.

The Staff has tried, through countless hours of work to give you a satisfactory edition. We wish to take this opportunity to thank the staff as well as our adviser, Letha Falls.

It's all yours — the 1957 ANLIBRUM.

We're the Saints, we're from Heaven
We're the class of fifty-seven.

Most of us had our first taste of high school life not as freshmen but as insignificant eighth graders. Even as freshmen, we were still walking around on tiptoe and afraid to meet a "tuff" senior face to face. •

In our mad sophomore and junior years, we really began to "rock it up" in the class tourneys. We began as Saints and ended as Tutti Fruittis with no pain at all. Now we're Saints again. Man, look at those halos!

Southern Fantasy was the smoothest prom in the history of the world. At least it was for us juniors. The music was the most; the punch was peachy, and the cake was delectable. We had a ball!

We didn't need a money tree in our senior year; we needed a whole orchard for pictures, announcements, caps and gowns, banquets, dances, weddings, dues, and Senior Day.

Things were lookin' up now. Graduation was comin'. The last week was a disordered mess with everybody in a panic. Then every senior, unbelievably calm and collected, marched down the aisle on unsteady ankles.

We made it, Mom and Dad; we made it!

The most important activities of the dramatics class this year were the annual three-act play and the Christmas program. This year's play was a science-fiction drama entitled War of the Worlds. Dramatics teacher, Kent Kurtz, also directed a special play for the P.T.A. called The Old Rural District School House, and a humorous one-act play for the student body called Nobody Sleeps. When you add declamations prepared for speech meets, you can see that dramatics class has kept busy.

The members present humorous and dramatic declamations and debate. The National Forensic League is an honorary speech organization. The students must be in the upper two-thirds of their class and must have earned twenty points by participating in speech meets. It has 16 members this year. In February a debate tournament was held here at Elmhurst; it consisted of about 12 different schools. A Junior Town Meeting was held also at Elmhurst and broadcast over WOWO. Two speech students took part in this. Members of the Speech Club are also responsible for the announcements given over the PA system. These activities all help in developing the speech-making ability of the student.

Reserve Season

The Elmhurst Reserves ended the 1956-57 campaign with an 8-8 record. Balanced scoring proved helpful as Jim Parr, Ross Springer, and John Bruner put on a contest for scoring honors that was not decided until the final game when Parr led Elmhurst to victory with 19 points, a team high for the year. The team scored 597 points on 207 goals and 183 free throws. Their offensive average was 37.3 while they gave up 35.9 points per contest. The reserves made over 55% of their free throws, the best they have done in recent years.

Varsity Season

Although their record was not impressive, there were several bright spots during the season. The first was leading the new Allen County Athletic Conference most of the campaign although Elmhurst finally finished fourth with a 4-3 record. Second, the Trojans battled their way to the final game at the County Tourney losing to Leo 47-41. The last major accomplishment was in the sectionals when Elmhurst scored in the 80's for the first time, by beating Lafayette Central 82-75. The Trojans averaged 51.5 points offensively and gave up 55.1 points per game. Elmhurst made 61.7% of their foul shots while their opponents made 60.6%.
